

Is there an ANZAC story in your family?

In preparation for the next ANZAC Day Ceremony, the Shire of Williams is looking for members of the community who have an ANZAC Day memory to share.

It doesn't matter if it's not a complete story, just an anecdote would also be appreciated. Perhaps a memory that Grandpa has shared with you, a little snippet of information, there might be a letter from during or just after the war, anything that offers an insight into their experience. Sometimes even just one particular moment can shape a life or create a story that is re-told from time to time, so if you have one of those it would be very much appreciated if you would share it with us on ANZAC Day.

You could tell or read it out yourself, or if you would prefer we could have someone else read it on your behalf.

We are also particularly interested in getting the younger generation involved, so perhaps there is a child or teenager in your family who would like to read out the story.

Help us keep the ANZAC spirit alive, now and into the next generations.

Please contact the Shire office on 9885 1005 or just call in and have a chat.
We look forward to hearing from you.
